Cabrieres's 2021 Chateauneuf du Pape was yet to be bottled when I tasted it last summer. Hints of strawberries and redcurrants come across as slightly stewed, but there are some attractive floral elements as well. A blend of 50% Grenache, 20% each Mourvèdre and Syrah, and 10% Cinsault, mostly aged in concrete and old barrels, it's full-bodied and a bit warm, with supple, soft, silky tannins on the finish.
